RUSSIA'S TITLE TO COAST EXPLAINED TO COMMISSION.

American Counsel Shows It Was Perfeet, and That British Interests at That Time Were Satisfied.

London, Sept. 24.-The presence of several American women brightened the proceedings of the Alaskan Boundary Commission to-day.

David T. Watson of Pittsburg, of counsel for the American side, continued the presentation of the American case, and is expected to conclude his argument to-

Mr. Watson devoted the morning to an examination of Russia's title, pointing out that everything in the Russo-British ne-that everything in the Russo-British negotiations showed that Russia's demand for a boundary involved the exclusive possession of all the coast line. He contended that without such a boundary, excluding the sea, the rest of the Russian possessions would have been valueless.

Mr. Watson devoted the afternoon to contending that Russia's primary idea was to establish a barrier to prevent the advance of British traders from the East, while Great Britain at that time also desired a barrier in order to secure freedom for the operations of the Hudson Bay Company. These purposes, counsel claimed, would have been completely frustrated if the British had obtained the heads of inlets.

The commission expects that the arguments will certainly be completed October 10. The commission expects that the arguments will certainly be completed October 9.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SHOWS INCREASE OF 906.

Reports Received by Board of Edueatlen Give Total Attendance at 70,639.

The total enrollment in the public schools of the city, as estimated at the Board of Education yesterday from reports received from the various schools, is 70,639. The corresponding Wednesday of 1902 showed 69,733 enrolled. The increase of the present year over last is 906. Of this increase the High School furnished 471 and the district schools 435.

The attendance at the High School is 2.530. The enrollment for the corresponding day last year was 2,072. Of the increase in the High Schools, the Central High School furnishes 458. The increase at Sumner High, the negro school, was 13. The estimate placed upon the probable increase in the attendance at the High School has been verified, but the large increase looked for in the district schools did not materialize. It was thought probable that the 75,000 mark would be reached this year in public school attendance.

"There are several reasons why the number attending the public schools did not reach our expectations," said Superintendent of Instruction Soldan. "The increase in population of the city has come mostly from working men who came here on account of the employment to be had during the World's Fair, and did not bring their families. Another reason is that a large number of children have been offered profitable employment on account of the general prosperity and have accepted it, thus cutting short the attendance in the medium and higher grades.

"Another reason is that the high rents have driven many families into the county and their children are attending school outside of the city. We have received several applications for their children to attend school from former patrons who have moved beyond the city limits.

"Another indication of the effect of the increased rent may be noticed in the increase in the attendance of the schools in the river district, where rents have not been raised. An instance is the Humboldt School at Third-street and Russell avenue. This year the school building will hardly accommodate the number attending. For several years the attendance of the compelled some parents to keep their children out of school in order that they might be able to assist in defraying increased expenses."

Court Doesn't Like Flattery of Counsel.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Macon, Mo., Sept. 24.-Every one who has on any occasion attended a trial in a court of record cannot have failed to notice the relentless energy displayed by the lawyers on one side to keep the fellows on the other side of the house from getting away from the case in their arguments. It's the law of the land. Sam Dunham, advocate, was trying a

BOARD OF TRADE LOSES "BUCKET SHOP" INJUNCTION

Federal Court of Appeals Holds That Plaintiff Itself Has Violated Statutes of Illinois.

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 24.-Judge Shiras has written the opinion for the United States Court of Appeals in the case of The Christie Grain and Stock Company et al.. appellant, vs. The Board of Trade of Chicago, appellee, reversing the decision of the Federal Court of Missouri, and remanding the case to that court, with instructions to dismiss the bill at complainstructions to dismiss the bill at complainant's cost.

The Chicago Board of Trade secured an injunction in the lower court against the Christle Company, restraining it from obtaining from the telegraph companies any of the quotations furnished by the Board of Trade, alleging that the quotations were private property, and could not be furnished except upon contract.

The testimony developed that 5 per cent of the transactions of the board was gambling in margins; that by admission of the board it was shown that it maintained bucket shops. On this evidence the Appellate Court holds that the Board of Trade did not come into court with clean hands or for a lawful purpose, and clearly it was not the duty of a court of equity to grant any relief prayed by it; that the transactions were in violation of the statute of Illinois, and, therefore, unlawful.

Response to Shaw's Refunding Propositions Not Prompt.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, Sept. 24.-Bonds for refund-

Refunding operations to-day were confined to the exchange of one of $25,000, of which $11,700 were 3 rd cents and $13,000 4 per cents. It is ex. cted by the Treasury officials that the bonds will come in more freely if the price of the 2-per-cent consols is well maintained for a few days. The general expectation seems to have been that refunding would tend to have been that refunding would tend to depress the price of these bonds, which was Secretary Shaw's object, and the holders of threes and fours seem to be reluctant to exchange them for twos and run the risk of a sudden drop in the price of the latter.

There were in all $220,290 of the 5-percent bonds of 1904 redeemed to-day. Of this amount $150,000 were redeemed at the Treasury in Washington and $70,000 at the Subtreasury in New York The small amount turned in at New York was something of a surprise to the officials, as it had been understood that more of these bonds were held in that city than anywhere else, and it was expected that the New York holders would hurry them to the Subtreasury to secure the greatest possible benefit from the anticipation of the interest to maturity.

possible benefit from the anticipation of the interest to maturity.

The 5-per-cent bonds on deposit with the United States Treasurer to secure Government deposits in the banks cannot be turned in for redemption at once, as it is necessary to substitute State and municipal bonds for them. This will require a few days in most cases. Permission to make this substitution was granted in two cases to-day, the bonds, amounting to $45,000, having been on deposit for more than thirty days.

Two lots of 5-per-cent bonds, aggregating $150,000, were received at the Treasury Department to-day, to be substituted for 2-per-cent consols, now on deposit, to secure public moneys. The banks sending them were notified that they could not be received for this purpose, and would only be received by the department for redemption.

An attempt was made several days ago to vaccinate several prisoners and they objected claiming that as they were Federal prisoners the regular rules of the jail do not apply to them.

iron and finished material, gives good support to hopeful views.

On the other hand, the closing down of certain blast furnaces and steel works, with promise of further restriction in the near future, is unfailing proof of production in excess of consumption, and indicates again a market price that has reached the cost line for some producers of pig iron.

A new and unexpected complication on the labor side is the issue raised by the Masters and Pilots' Union on the Great Lakes. The issue raised hy the Masters and Pilots' Union on the Great Lakes.
